Product Description

What is Anabolic Steroid Powder Human Growth Peptides Hormone 191AA?

HGH, also known as growth hormone, is composed of 191 amino acid chains; Prior to synthesis, HGH extraction relied entirely on extraction from cadavers (pituitary gland).

Spontaneous secretion of HGH occurs in paroxysmal form between day and night, and generally occurs in the first slow wave sleep period (SWS) after physiological sleep. Daytime rest seems to promote the release of HGH. Food intake, fasting, exercise, and stress can affect the form of HGH secretion, but do not change its basic rhythm. In adolescence, HGH secretion range is high, frequency is fast, and total secretion is large day and night, while in the elderly, it is the opposite.
