Brief Introduction:

PT141, also known as Bumenotide, is used to treat female sexual dysfunction, and PT-141 has shown positive Chemicalbook results in a phase clinical trial administered to normal premenopausal women. PT141 helps maintain normal libido in premenopausal women with hypoactive sexual desire disorder by activating endogenous pathways in the brain that regulate libido and sexual response.

PT141 was developed from the tanning peptide Melanotan 2, which is a synthetically produced variant of a peptide hormone naturally produced in the body that stimulates melanogenesis that is known as alpha-Melanocyte stimulating hormone.

Applications:

PT-141 functions by activating the melanocortin 1 receptor and MC4R namely. Bremelanotide originally was tested for nasal spray delivery but was discontinued after concerns about side effects. Bremelanotide PT141, as Melanotan II, may cause spontaneous arousal enhancing effect. Unlike other supplements, pt 141 results do not act on the vascular body, but directly increases desires through the nervous system.

PT-141 or Bremelanotide is the generic term for a peptide being studied for its possible use in helping to improve sexual dysfunction in both men (erectile dysfunction or impotence) and women (sexual arousal disorder). PT-141 has a similar structure to Melanotan-II and is a synthetic analogue of alpha-Melanocyte stimulating hormone (α -MSH). Alpha-MSH is an endogenous peptide that has potential influence over lipid metabolism, appetite, and sexual libido. PT-141 is a potential remedy for the treatment of sexual dysfunction and studies have shown that PT-141 does not act on the vascular system like former compounds, but allegedly works by activating melanocortin receptors in the brain, therefore helping increase ones sexual stimulation.
