Brief Introduction:

Ipamorelin is a peptide agonist of growth hormone secretory receptor, which can significantly increase the level of human plasma growth hormone (GH). It has powerful growth hormone releasing properties. The release properties of these growth hormones are of interest to athletes and bodybuilders because it can make a huge difference in your muscle mass and the rate at which you burn fat. In contrast to other growth hormone-releasing peptides (such as GHRP), Ipamorelin does not produce the negative effects of an appetite spike, increased prolactin, and elevated cortisol, thus ensuring its benefits.
