Brief Introduction:

HGH Fragment 176-191 is a Fragment of growth hormone. In the study, it was found that the fat-reducing function of growth hormone HGH was controlled by the C-terminal region of growth hormone molecule, and the interception of 176-191 terminal meant that the fat-reducing effect of growth hormone was isolated. At the same time, the fat loss capacity of growth hormone segment 176-191 was 12.5 times that of the whole HGH segment.
