Application:

Pramiracetam as a pyrrolidones cerebral metabolism improving drug, is a kind of CNS drugs that can help improve memory, anti-forgetful, it is developed by the United States Parke-Davis pharmaceutical companies, with a strong improvement in brain function, enhancing memory, the ability to promote brain alertness, and clinical trials have proved that its activity is 6-13 times of piracetam, 3-4 times of oxiracetam, 1.25 times of aniracetam, and it is toxicity low and well tolerated, it can be used for long-term medication to improve symptoms, and delay Alzheimer-type dementia.

Function:

1. Improved Memory - Because it stimulates the hippocampus, the part of the brain largely responsible for the creation of new memories, pramiracetam is known as a very powerful memory enhancement. Most users report significant improvement in memory formation and speed of recall, a claim that has been corroborated by animal studies.
2. Expanded Learning Capacity - Users report that pramiracetam makes learning faster, easier, and more enjoyable. This can be explained at least in part by pramiracetam's facilitation of greater neuroplasticity.

3. Mental Alertness and Clarity - Typically users report that taking pramiracetam gives them strong feelings of mental alertness, focus, rapid idea formation, and clear thinking.

4. Social Fluency - Many users say that taking pramiracetam helps them enjoy and fully participate in social situations, a benefit that is likely related to the supplement's over all brain function optimization but could also be somewhat related to its emotional blunting effects, which may reduce social anxiety.

5. Improved Sensory Perception - Users often report enhanced or improved sensory perceptions, including amplified and richer sound and clearer and more vivid visual perception with greater color contrast.

6. Memory Repair - In limited clinical trials, pramiracetam has been shown to be an effective treatment for memory loss and other cognitive problems caused by brain injuries. It is also one of several nootropics that have been tested in the US as possible treatment of memory loss related to Alzheimer's disease and other neurological disorders. One study has even shown it to be capable of reversing chemically induced amnesia in healthy volunteers from 18-65 years of age.
