Brief Introduction of peptide selank

Selank is a synthetic analogue of immunoregulatory peptide Tuftsin, which is a heptapeptide with sequence of THR-Lys-Pro-ARg-pro-Gly-Pro. Tuftsin is a tetrapeptide (ThR-Lys-pro-ARg). Located in the Fc domain of the immunoglobulin G heavy chain (residues 289-292). Tuftsin is an immune stimulant. Both Tuftsin and Selank have the ability to reduce anxiety and boost serotonin levels.

spectrum of modes of action and applications. Selank is used in American medicine, inter alia, to combat anxiety and phobias. The effect of Selank is very similar to the effect of the sedative benzodiazepines, but without the numbing, so sedative side effects. As a substitute for extreme medications such as anxiolytics and nootropics, Selank can be used to fight depression, anxiety and anxiety in general. In addition, Selank reduces mental stress, which in turn has a positive effect on various areas.

Selank is closely related to the peptide Semax, also a recently developed peptide. However Selank should be the much more efficient variant of these two peptides.
