Brief Introduction of Melanotan 2

Melanotan 2 is a synthetic analogue of the natural Melanocortinn peptide hormone. It imitates the body's own natural tanning process, by stimulating the melanocytes, causing them to produce melanin. This peptide significantly reduces the risk of negative effects of tanning and the open sun. Melanotan 2 is highly effective in achieving safe, high quality and long-lasting tan. Melanotan-2 has shown efficacy in combating erectile dysfunction and other sexual dysfunction, increasing libido, and providing aphrodisiac properties. Moreover, it helps to loose weight by oxidizing fatty acids, which optimizes insulin regulation.

Melanotan-2 is an analog of alpha-melanocyte stimulating hormone (a-MSH) and acts as a non-selective agonist of the melanocortin receptors, which influence pigmentation, inflammation, energy homeostasis, appetite and sexual function: MC1, MC3, MC4, MC5 activates the central melanocortin, which in turn triggers melanogenesis, and skin tanning occurs. Melanotan II reduces the serum levels of cholesterol and insulin, increases cholesterol metabolism and fat catabolism.
