Thymosin-beta4, better known as TB-500, is an extremely interesting peptide. Due to its extremely fast general and wound healing effect, it is a kind of healing booster for athletes after an injury to be back on the ball as soon as possible, which can be a huge advantage especially in strength training after surgery or the like.

Thymosin β 4 is used by different sports representatives: athletes, bodybuilders, Crossfitters, boxers, cyclists. The main function of this course is to strengthen the musculoskeletal system, increase the strength of the ligaments and tendons, improve the flexibility of the joints. In addition, the process of TB - 500 can increase the naturally occurring of LH, therefore, the increase of the intensity with the increase of aerobic and anaerobic endurance.

Another effect of the TB500 course for athletes is to accelerate recovery from intense training and improve the quality of recovery processes. Fast and complete recovery allows you to increase the volume of the training load and progress at an accelerated pace during periods of work on strength, mass and relief.
