What is PT 141 For Men

PT-141 is the prior developmental code given name for Bremelanotide. This is a peptide originally developed as a sunless tanning agent. It is a melanocyte-stimulating hormone (MSH) that affects sexual arousal, aiding enhanced libido levels and penile erections. Unlike Viagra or Cialis, PT-141 is not a PDES inhibitor, and it does not target the vascular system. Instead, it acts on the nervous system via activation of neurons in the hypothalamus to increase sexual desire.

PT-141 is a peptide drug that affects neurotransmitters in the brain called melanocortins. It is an agonist at melanocortin receptors. This means it activates the receptors, causing a response. Melanocortin receptors control sexual function, impact appetite, and immunity, among other physiologic actions.

PT-141 offers promise treating sexual dysfunction in men and women who do not have success with the PDE5 inhibitors Viagra (sildenafil) and Cialis (tadalafil) or can't take sildenafil or tadalafil for health reasons.
