Product Introduction Of PT-141 In Men

PT-141 is a peptide created from Melanotan 2 (a synthetic version of alpha-Melanocyte stimulating hormone). PT-141 injection therapy is used to address problems with sexual dysfunction in men.

Also known as Bremelanotide or Vyleesi, PT-141 is commonly called "the sex peptide."

PT-141 appears to act on melanocortin receptors 3 and 4 in the brain. It enhances sexual arousal and penile erections by releasing dopamine, a neurotransmitter in the brain.

In a double-blinded placebo-controlled study, approximately 80 percent of men developed an erection satisfactory for intercourse after using PT-141 whether the cause of ED was physical or psychological, and 68 percent of men reported an increase in sexual desire.

Clinical trials are underway to further investigate PT-141; early results show that PT-141 is effective for men with diabetes and ED and for men who do not respond well to oral ED medications.
