What is Ipamorelin HGH

There are numerous Growth Hormone Releasing Peptides but out of all of them, Ipamorelin is the cleanest, safest and the most versatile. Many of Ipamorelin's characteristics and modes of action resembles those of GHRP-6 and GHRP-2, the pentapeptide of Ipamorelin also resembles Hexarelin but compared to Hexarelin, it is much cleaner. Ipamorelin acts like all the other Growth Hormone Releasing Peptides but without the slack side effects of elevated hunger problems.

How does Ipamorelin actually work?

When a patient is administered with a dose of Ipamorelin, a selective pulse is sent throughout the body, this stimulates the pituitary gland and the hypothalamus to release the Growth Hormones. This pulse can last for up to 3 hours after the administration of this dose. Once the Growth Hormone pulse is sent through the body, growth cells move directly to the muscles where they support muscle development and at the same time, they stay alert of any cartilage or bone growths. This is exceptionally beneficial for long-term users of Ipamorelin because this drug will only affect the growth of lean muscles without posing any threats to bone and cartilage deformation and growth. This can never be the case when it comes to synthetic Human Growth Hormone users who often experience numerous side effects which are related to swelling of the joints and in other cases, the Carpal Tunnel. Ipamorelin increases the synthesis of cells and it elevates the release of insulin from the pancreatic tissues. It also increases the levels of Ghrelin in the stomach which helps to controls hunger. All these processes work together to facilitate a substantial release and action of growth hormones in the body and they also promote fat loss, shuttling of nutrients, and it aids in building lean and clean muscles that will greatly increase your mass.
