Product Description

694.91 Cosmetic Peptide Palmitoyl Tetrapeptide-7/Matrixyl 3000 For Anti-Aging

Palmitoyl tetrapeptide-7 is a synthetic peptide consisting of a sequence of four amino acids: glycine, glutamine, proline and arginine. These amino acids act at the molecular level in the skin layer by stimulating cell production and promoting the renewal process, providing anti-ageing effects.

Palmitoyl tetrapeptide-7 is also used in beauty and cosmetic products to inhibit the production of excess interleukins, chemical messengers that trigger an acute inflammatory response in the body. Inflammation can negatively affect the skin's support system (made up of collagen, elastin and other proteins), leading to wrinkles, sagging and uneven skin tone.
