What Is GHRP 2

GHRP-2, like its brother GHRP-6, is a hexapeptide that is a pure growth hormone secretagogue. In addition, GHRP-2 is a synthetic agonist of ghrelin. Unlike GHRP-6, this peptide does not bring on the heavy hunger side effects associated with GHRP-6; however, some users will notice slight increases in hunger. Somewhere in between GHRP-6 and iPamorelin, this hexapeptide has the ability to be a serious contender when considering which GHRP to use with your GHRH.

Remember way back when I addressed the amazing ability GHRP-6 has in improving the production of the hormone ghrelin in the stomach (a hormone that controls hunger and GH release)? Well let me tell you about GHRP-2 and why this peptide is one step better than its little brother GHRP-6. Unlike GHRP-6, GHRP-2 does not come with the heavy hunger side effect, but still maintains all the benefits of activating ghrelin.

Benefits Of GHRP 2

- Stimulates Growth Hormone Secretion
- Stimulates secretion of endogenous GH
- Fat mass decrease
- Muscle mass increase
- Lowered cholesterol levels
- Skin and bone strengthening
- Protection of the liver
- Anti-inflammatory action
- Many repair properties
