Product Description

Cortagen is a biological regulatory peptide that primarily acts on the brain and central nervous system. It has secondary effects on the immune system and heart tissue. Research has shown that it is a powerful regulator of inflammatory responses, particularly in the nervous system, helping to restore the balance and normal function between pro oxidative and antioxidant processes. It has been studied as a potential treatment for ischemic brain injury and has shown beneficial long-term effects along with similar compounds. Cortagen stimulates the expression of interleukin-2, mainly by reducing autoimmune responses to help regulate immune function.
